AYER'S
THE ONLY
Sarsaparilla

ADMITTED
READ RULE XV.

"Articles
that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition."

Why was Ayer's Sarsaparilla admitted? Because it is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, nor a secret preparation,
not dangerous, not an experiment, and because it is all that a family medicine should be.

what is said about Olive Branch in another column. It costs only $1 a month.

Hogs grown under cleanly conditions make clean and wholesome pork.

Thousands of cases of rheumatism
have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.
This is abundant reason for belief that it will cure you.

Give plenty of food and a good chance to exercise to all domestic animals.

Important to Invalid Ladies.

Dr. Kilmer.—After being afflicted for fifteen years with womb trouble and being operated upon twice, with no relief, I used three boxes of Olive Branch and I can now I'm well.

Mr. Ira P. Watmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for several years as occasion required, and always with perfect success. He says: "I find it a perfect cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this Remedy
at home or on a trip away from home."
For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, and Ed R. Bogard, Lafayette, Ky.

The best sheep produces not only better mutton or better wool, but both.

Pork-eaters are usually scrofulous and need Ayer's Sarsaparilla to cleanse the blood.

It is no advantage for the farmer
to keep poor horses because they are cheap.

Piles! Piles! Why Suffer?

"I was a sufferer for years with Piles. All remedies failed until I used Comel Pile Remedy which entirely cured me. I heartily recommend it as I am certain it will do all that is claimed for it." So writes
R. R. Waldrop, Dallas, O.

Feed a fair amount of grain and let the animal complete the ration on coarser food.

Any one who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Piscine, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says "I thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. C. Hardwick, Ed R. Bogard, Lafayette, Ky.

The animal, the feed and the product are the same, changed only in form or combination.

OUR WIT AND HUMOR.

HAPPY, HITS AND JIBES FOR LEAN FOLKS.

Satirical Pot Pourri Gleaned from Our Brightest Exchanges—"A Pig in a Poke" Illustrated—Irish Philosophy—
The Witch.

Her eyes were wondrous bright and blue,
Their clear, mossy-green glance
Each instant thrilled me thro' and thro'.
I seemed as in a trance.
But yet, such power the witch obtained,
I do not wish to be unchained.

She does not haunt the woodland dark;
This witch of which I tell,
A brown stone front near the park
Is where she weaves the spell,
And where she says the little hope
"Yes," within my horoscope,
Because the hostile stars decree
She must a sister be to me.
—Earle H. Eaton in Truth.

Health Not Risked.
Mrs. Suburb—I never noticed until we moved into this house that the pump is out doors.

Agent—That's so the water will be nice and cool in summer, ma'am.

"But I don't want to be running out doors dozens of times a day in winter."
"No need to, ma'am. The pump always freezes up in cold weather."
—New York Weekly.

A Pig in a Poke.

Couldn't Understand.
Little Dot—What does this mean?
"Love laughs at locksmiths."
Mamma—You can't understand until you are older.

Little Dot—I thought maybe it meant something like the time you looked me in a room for kissing Willie Sweet, and I climbed out of the window and kissed him some more.

She Remembered.
Child—Why don't you have your dinner table mended?
Hostess—Mended?
"Yes'm. It's very weak and rickety, isn't it?"
"Why, no, dear. It's solid mahogany."

An Earnest Student.
Small Boy—Mamma, where's the dictionary? I'm writin' a composition.
Fond Mother—Bless his little heart!
You are determined to have everything correct, aren't you? The dictionary is on the lower shelf in the library.

Small Son—Well, I wish you'd get it and keep it by you, so w'en I ask you how to spell a word you can find out.

Hoped She'd Stay.
Little Boy—I hope you are going to make us a long visit.
Aunt (on the father's side)—I am delighted to hear you say that.

Little Boy—I'm awful fond of preserves, and mamma said she'd go on puttin' 'em up so long as you was here to do the paring. She hates that.

Remarkable Dogs.
First Liar—I have a dog that runs to a doctor every time it gets hurt.

Second Liar—Smart dogs are plenty enough, but I have one with a sense of humor.

"I guess not. How does he show it?"
"Every time he sees a tailor he pants."—New York Weekly.

Couldn't Qualify.
Little Dick—Teacher says if I study
hard, I may get to be President.

Little Dot—Great President you'd make!
"Why?"
"You're 'fraid to take a fish off the hook."

Sentimental Occupation.
Wife—Pretty condition you are in!
What were you doing at the club this time of night? Just tell me that.

Husband—M'dear, we were (hic)
shing—shing—"Home, Sweetome."

A Mist.
Little Ethel—What makes the baby
cry so?

Little Dot—Mamma says it's 'cause
he's getting teeth.

Little Ethel—They must be a awful bad fit.—Good News.

Small Bills.
Friend—If your washerwoman
charges by the piece, it must be rather expensive.

Young Housekeeper—Oh, no. She loses so many things that her bills are never high.

Johnny in Luck.

Little Johnny—Whoopi!
Little Ethel—What's happened?
"Something jolly. The grocer has cheated mamma."
"I don't see anything jolly in that."
"You don't eh? She sent for a lot of hard, sour, cooking apples, and he sent some that don't fit for anything but eating. Whoopi!—Good News."

A Scheme for Comfort.
Friend—Why are you so enthusiastic
on the subject of women's suffrage?
Mr. Nojoy—The elections always come in the spring and fall, don't they?
"Certainly."
"Well, get 'em interested in the campaigns, and they'll forget about house cleaning."

A Deliberate Insult.
Mother—Why were you fighting with
that boy?
Little Johnny—He insulted me. He said "Johnny, get your hair cut."

"I don't see anything very insulting in that."
"You don't? Why, it's just the same as saying I ain't any good at football."

Grateful Change.
Clara—Did you have pleasant weather at the Springs this summer?
Dora—No. It was hot, dreadfully so.
"Really uncomfortable, was it?"
"Awfully. Why, the weather was so warm that when a man with a cool
million proposed to me I accepted him
at once."

Trying to Smooth Matters.
Mistress—Did any one call while I was out?
New Girl—Yes, mum; Mrs. Wayupp called?

"Did she seem disappointed when you said I was not at home?"
"Well, she did look a little queer, but I told her she needn't get mad about it, 'cause it was really true this time."

Algy's Ambition.
Algy—Aw—can you spare me a few hundred to run oval to London?
Father—What's the object?
"Golf."

Good! If you learn how to play golf,
it may—
"Oh, but I don't want to play it. I want to learn how to pronounce it."

A Division of Labor.

Friend—That is your cook, I presume?
Mrs. Bricabac—Cook, chambermaid, and everything else. She does all the housework.

"But what is the second girl for?"
"She mends the things that the other one breaks."

Irish Philosophy.

Doogin—Be gobs, and sure dis load
is too many for wan man to want!
Here, Jerry, you be after takin' the jug and aise yer father a bit.

One Woman's Rights.
He (after the wedding)—The first time I kissed you I got slapped.

She (firmly)—Yes, and hereafter you'll get slapped if you don't.—New York Weekly.

Still a Child.
Old Nan—What! Marry that child?
Sutor—Your daughter is no longer
a child, sir; she is a woman.

Old Man—Nonsense! Why, she isn't a bit bossy yet.

"Cured my cough like magic" is the frequent expression of those who testify to the merits of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Crops must be made, not simply grown. The farmer's business is to combine the needed elements.

The Best of All.
McMinnville, Tenn., Nov. 15, 1893.
—I had kidney trouble for over twenty years and had tried everything I could hear of, without benefit. Two bottles of King's Royal Germatuer cured me, have recommended it to many friends for fevers,
stomach, kidney and bowel troubles,
and their use of Germatuer has been satisfactory in every instance.
